Hay is in short supply on many farms. One choice some cattle owners have is to cut soybeans for hay. Soybeans should be cut for hay when the seedpod is half filled and the lower leaves are beginning to turn yellow.

If you plan to harvest beans as hay yourself, need to watch them carefully because they can begin to defoliate quickly. Soybeans need to be conditioned to speed the drying process.

Soybean hay properly harvested and cured will contain as much or more digestible protein as alfalfa hay.

Five County Fair is coming up on September 13-18. You can pick up a catalog from this office and plan to attend a cattle or swine show. This should be an educational program for the entire family.

One reader called to offer another deer damage preventive measure. She says that dried blood sprinkled up and down rows will keep deer out of the garden and dogs from around shrubbery and flowers.

We had six persons to attend the field day at Orange last Thursday. It was an excellent program.

Last Friday a number of Newton Jennings friends stopped by the ACHS Office to bid farewell. Newton steps out of his important office after many years of dedicated service to the people of Appomattox County. Our wish is for him many years of good health in his retirement.

There will be nearly 1700 head of yearling cattle in the sale at Lynchburg. Appomattox cattlemen will have 121 head in this sale.

Small grain should be treated before planting. Most seed treatments are applied as a protection against fungi; the fungus organism may be on the seed, in the seed or in the soil.

Seed treatments will not improve the viability of seed but quite often can protect it until the plant becomes established and outgrows the disease organism.

Smuts are often a problem, but with newer fungicide, Vitavax, this disease is easily controlled. If you treat small grain seed with Vitatax DO NOT graze or feed livestock on treated area for six weeks after planting.

The Virginia seed law requires that treated seed must contain dye or color that is of a contrast to the natural color of the seed. Be sure not to store treated seed in areas that contain animal feed or potential food for humans. In disposing of treated seed that no longer has a viable germination, it would be advisable to bury the seed.

Specific seed treatment recommendations are available from this office.

Players Of The Week

Lewis Martin and William "Boo Boo" Trent, left to right above, have been named players of the week in the opening game of the season for the Raiders of ACHS when they defeated the Gretna Hawks 30 - 6.

Martin, a defensive tackle, led the team in tackles and scored a safety while "Boo Boo" Trent, offensive running back, scored two touchdowns and gained 172 yards rushing. Both players were instrumental in leading the Raiders to the 30 - 6 win over Gretna.

VA Questions & Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.

Q - Due to a World War II service-connected disability I have been receiving compensation rated at 50 per cent since 1946, can this rating be reduced?

A - Generally, a continuus rating for 20 years or more cannot be reduced.

Q - Are there any additional benefits for veterans who are rated as being 100 per cent disabled by the Veterans Administration, and in need of assistance of another person?

A - Yes. Veterans so severely disabled as to require the regular aid and attendance of another person may be entitled to additional payment of $133 per month if receiving VA pension and $159 per month if receiving compensation. Veterans receiving compensation for 100 per cent rating due to unemployability are not eligible for aid and attendance benefits.

Q - I am a veteran going to school under the GI Bill. My son if also a veteran receiving benefits under the GI Bill and livng at home. Can I claim him a dependent and receive an increased amount since he is under 23?

A - Yes. The dependent's own service does not constitute a bar to payment to veterans of increased educational assistance payments.

Raiders Down Hawks

William "BooBoo" Trent rushed for 172 yards and scored two touchdowns in leading the Raiders to a 30-6 victory over the Gretna Hawks in the season opener for both teams.

Trent scored the first touchdown of the game on a 5 yard pass from sophomore quarterback Joe Fraley with 7:24 remaining in the first quarter.

Midway through the second quarter, John Rothgeb took a pitch-out from Fraley and scampered 17 yards to pay dirt. Trent scored again in the third quarter from the 1 yard line after the officials ruled that he was stopped short of the goal on the previous play on which he took a hand off from Fraley and broke through the Gretna defense for 42 yards. Appomattox's final TD came two minutes later when Tom Wingfield got by the defender and snared a Fraley pass, good for 18 yards, in the end zone. Tommy Bryant converted after each TD and the Raiders led 28-0 at the end of three quarters.

Early in the 4th quarter, Lewis Martin and Kenny Wayne Carter pulled down the Hawks quarterback in his own end zone for a safety. The Appomattox defense led by Martin, Tom Hix, Mitch Eggleston, James Robinson, Phil Jamerson and R. L. Harris held Gretna to 5 first downs and 44 yards total offense.

The hawks scored late in the game aided by several key penalties against the Raiders, one a pass interference call which gave the Hawks a 1st down on the Raider 1 yard line.

Appomattox Raiders will travel to Naruna Friday night to play William Campbell who defeated Liberty 18-8 in the season opener.

They will be back in Bragg Stadium September 17 to entertain Rustburg, a 32-0 winner over Jefferson Forest Friday night.

A survey shows that people laugh most whan a female is the butt of a joke. It said that the presence of a "female victim" seems to be the crucial factor in determinig a joke's success. Unfortunately, one of the most cruel types of joke relates to an overweight woman's most sensitive area, her figure or appearance. The butt of such jokes often tries to cover up her true feelings in order to be considered a "sport" and then goes home and overeats to compensate for her hurt ego. It's a vicious circle. Wouldn't it be wonderful if friends and relatives would stop trying to get a cheap laugh at the expense of an overweight person. Are they really friends if they don't?

On Monday night, Gay Stafford announced that at our next meeting on September 13, at 7:30 p.m., Nancy Elder and John McLean will be our guest speakers. They will give a talk on home care products and a cosmetics demonstration. All members are urged to be present and perhaps even to bring a friend. The program should be entertaining as well as beneficial.

Due to the Labor Day holiday, attendance was light but the club lost 18 pounds. Mary Alice Goin won a prize for the best weight loss. Members, please come in with a good weight loss next Monday night. We're having company!

There was an error in last weeks TOPS news. It should have read Martha Guill, not Martha Moore!

Hospitality Lady, Lois Lutke, gave a very entertaining program on how to dress to compensate for different figure faults. We enjoyed it Lois!

Where are you Sarah Robertson? Sarah is a KOPS, Keep Off Pounds Sensibly, and TOPS is proud of her. See you at our next meeting? We miss you!

Everyone is invited to attend our next meeting. Remember there is no obligation to join. That's next Monday night, at 7 P.M. at the Old Evergreen School.
